“When we play music for others we experience reading the emotion of the crowd and then adjusting our music to meet their mood and then elevate it. Even though we're interacting with hundreds or maybe thousands, while a therapist is working with just one person at a time, the same principal applies: meet the client where they are, then help them to get somewhere better.”

A short while back, I admittedly visited DJ Yoda in the DJ booth to find out about what track he was playing a few too many times. Only to be welcomed with “Why don't you go and get your own f**king tunes!”

With this in mind I started building a deep vault of funk, soul, hip-hop, reggae, breaks and drum 'n' bass to provide all the best people with all the best music that I could find.

I am one of the resident DJs for the music collective OneTaste and have played at festivals including Glastonbury, Shambala, Secret Garden Party, Bestival, Boom Town, Lovebox, Standon Calling, Give/Kimberley.

I make mash-ups using hip-hop acapellas over reggae, soul and house instrumentals which you can hear on my soundcloud page.
