MOTION GRAPHICS DESIGNER

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Hi there,

I've always really known that I wanted to design; when your work is one of your hobbies you know life is good. I studied creative subjects through school, college and completed a Graphic Design BA(Hons) degree. I was fortunate enough to land a job as a Graphic Designer the day after I graduated with Fuel Integrated. With them, I started to work with large global companies, enabling me to communicate and build relationships with various clients.

Wanting to make my designs move and come to life, I learnt After Effects and Cinema 4D. With a lot of practise and a number of courses I soon became part of the Motion Design team, later becoming the lead Motion Designer.

Working with high-end brands in a fast paced environment to tight deadlines, I was given the chance to develop my skills and knowledge. With the ability to design, storyboard, illustrate and animate, I often get to work with projects from the initial thought process to the final product. Ranging from launch campaigns, TV commercials, Rooftop cinemas, music festivals and exhibitions all around the world. Having a number of successful side projects already under my belt, I felt it was time to spread the wings and see what else the world has to offer.

I'm able to work as part of a team or independently, either way, I'll add the love and passion I have for design to each project.

Thanks for reading,

Kind regards
Ryan Birnie.
